That's right, TikTok is rewarding its members through the new TikTok Rewards referral program. Any user from the participating countries can invite a new member to join TikTok through their unique referral link and earn TikTok rewards. These rewards can then be redeemed in the form of mobile top-ups, coupons, and more.

Ask your friend who has never used TikTok to join the platform using your referral link.

TikTok Coins is the in-app currency used on TikTok. Wondering how to buy TikTok Coins? It can be easily purchased by any user in exchange for actual money. These TikTok Coins can then be used to send gifts and diamonds to creators, showing appreciation for their content.

This is how creators on TikTok can earn real money through TikTok coins: The creators earning these gifts on TikTok can convert them into diamonds, which can be further converted into cash.

In conclusion, earn TikTok Coins by creating the amazing content you love, earn those followers, and host interesting LIVE streams.

However, not everyone is eligible to apply for the TikTok Creator Fund. Here are some checkboxes to tick off before you think of getting your hands on the money
