At the time, women only carried their bags by hand, clutching them or looping them over their wrists through the straps.

Tired of always fumbling with and misplacing hers, Coco made the chain straps shorter and her design longer.

In February 1955, Coco introduced the first shoulder bag for women, naming it the Chanel 2.

55 Flap Bag (after its release date).

Not only famous for its shoulder-length straps, Coco included many other details that have since become iconic.

To keep it as true to the original as possible, she brought back the Mademoiselle lock and offered it in just three traditional colorways.

Flat betting is a consistent, disciplined strategy that means you are betting the same amount on every game regardless of your confidence level.

Anything above 5% means you are assuming bigger risk that could lead to massive fluctuations in your bankroll.

If you are starting with $100, this means you are betting $3 per game.

This now becomes your unit size moving forward, meaning one unit equals $30 or $3, respectively.

Unfortunately it just isn't realistic, especially if you're a new bettor.

If you lose all five bets and go 0-5 at $100 per bet, you just cut your bankroll in half from $1,000 to $500.

This is an improvement over betting $200 per game and losing it all, but you are still assuming far too much risk.

Don't change day-to-day, week-to-week or even month-to-month based on your performance.
